

What Is First Class Mail and Why You Should Send It Online.

What Is First Class Mail

First Class Mail is the most common and affordable way to send envelopes and lightweight packages. For lightweight packages, First Class Mail offers greater cost savings compared to Priority Mail and Parcel Select Ground.

Who Sends First Class Mail

Since First-Class mail is the most common type of mail, many businesses, people and startups tend to use this service for all or at least part of their mail. Anything you send to customers can be sent via First Class Mail. This includes bills, invoices, correspondence, and merchandise. The only restriction on sending mail First Class is that letters must weigh less than 3.5 ounces and your parcels must weigh less than 13 ounces.
